

TASTE OF NORTH DAKOTA

North Dakotans are proud of their connection to the land and culinary traditions. The state is the nation's top producer of many agricultural products, including spring wheat, sunflowers and honey. Our fare is full of authentic dishes that preserve our unique heritage, with local restaurants increasingly incorporating fresh, North Dakota ingredients straight from our farms.

And that's something to celebrate! Check out local food events and festivals around the state and sample the flavors of North Dakota.
